EASTMAN

Streamlined mealtime prep

Curtis Stone chooses Eastman Tritan™ copolyester for his innovative cutting and storage “Workbench.”

Celebrity chef Curtis Stone likes a workspace neat and efficient. Inspired to facilitate prep work in the home kitchen, Stone created the Workbench—a nifty all-in-one cutting board that combines eco-sustainable bamboo and durable Tritan containers. The BPA-free, fresh-lock containers fit neatly under the cutting board to collect scraps and store chopped foods. The unique design is handy when the cook is tasked with chopping several different foods and keeping them separated until ready for use. The Workbench is space-saving and easy to clean up, and when full of colorful morsels, it turns the ordinary cutting board into a work of art.
